BACKGROUND

CERT training is a “hands on” program that gives students the knowledge to plan for an emergency and the skills to assist themselves, their families and those around them following a major disaster. During the seven week training program, the CERT members learned about basic emergency preparedness, fire suppression, triage and disaster medical, light search and rescue, communications, team organization and management and disaster psychology. Each of the classes emphasized a set of skills that was practiced at a hands-on skill assessment and application exercise on August 7, 2010.

If a catastrophic event overwhelms or delays the community’s first responders, CERT members can assist others by applying the basic response and organizational skills that they learned during their training. These skills can help save and sustain lives following a disaster until help arrives. CERT skills can also relate to daily emergencies as well.

The City of Foster City recognizes the distinct advantage to better prepare the residents of our community for all disasters. The graduates of the CERT program have learned the necessary skills for self reliance in an emergency situation; this has benefited not only the graduates, but the City of Foster City as well. These individuals are now trained to be Disaster Service Workers who can assist in the event of an emergency. For their efforts to enroll in and complete the CERT training, staff desired to recognize them at a City Council meeting.

On September 25th, 2010, students from all three of the 2010 CERT classes will be attending a mock Earthquake Drill. This all day simulation exercise will allow students to practice their skills in the intensity of a life-like situation.

We continue to encourage all residents to enroll in future CERT classes.
