In regard to the legal decisions being made today about rentals: Though there is information provided, some of it seems confusing, such as regarding the intended goals and the timing of the same. In addition, it may be too soon to predict the full financial affects of the COVID pandemic on our city, or outcomes for the same. We'll know a lot more in the coming months. Therefore, it's possible that if contracts are made now under these conditions, and based solely on information and advice provided to City Council as of now, there could be unintended consequences. To protect our Council and city, my suggestion would be that Council allow further input and response, such as in additional public venues. I hope this helps.

THANK YOU for hearing me.
